

4th LCSS PhD METHODOLOGY CONFERENCE

Date: 2 June 2016

Venue: University of Westminster, London UK 4 Little Titchfield Street London W1W 7BY

Organisers: London Centre for Social Studies (LCSS), University of Westminster – Westminster Law School

Thursday, 2nd June	Parallel Session A	Parallel Session B	Parallel Session C
09:30- 10:00	Arrivals & Registration & Beverage Service 2.05a (2nd Floor)
10:00 - 10:15	WELCOME SPEECH LCSS Team
10:15 - 11:00	KEYNOTE 1 (2.05c) Keynote Speaker <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Dr Nicole Janz – University of Cambridge, Department of Sociology “Transparency in Social Science Research”
11:00 – 11.20	Coffee Break 2.05a (2nd Floor)

PARALLEL SESSION

A1
2.11 (2nd Floor)

Chair: Dr Cedric Gilson - University of Westminster, Westminster Law School, Department of Advanced Legal Studies

Zeynep Turhan. Insider and outsider status in qualitative research: Power relations and reflexivity.

Atalanta Goulandris. Researching the Bar: demystifying elite interviewing and navigating insider status

Maria Teresa Pinto. From Insider to Embedded: an Alternative Approach to Navigate the Dilemmas of the Native Researcher

Charlotte Brookfield. What does it all add up to? The advantages of the online survey mode to explore the place of quantitative methods in sociology

11:20 – 12:30

PARALLEL SESSION

B1
2.06a (2nd floor)

Chair: Dr Selcuk Uygur- Brunel University London, Business School

A. Ebru Akcasu. From Unreliable Sources: Questioning the (late-Ottoman) State.

Cassandra Wiener. Conclusions on Travels through Minefields: Danger and Ethics in the Post Modern Qualitative Interview

Anna Galazka. Ethnographic research in wound care: A retrospective account of hurdles posed by a qualitative interdisciplinary research design in identifying and negotiating access to sites and subjects

Linzhi Zhang. Getting into the art world: access and data in participant observation

PARALLEL SESSION

C1
2.01 (2nd Floor)

Chair: Dr Cagri Yalkin – Brunel University London, Business School

Laura Oxburgh. Police interviewing of the mentally disordered suspect: using an applied methodology

Lyubov Artemenko. Innovation-Driven Economic Development in Ukraine: Institutional Challenges

Alina Velias. Effects of Terrorism and Mortality Threat on Affect and Economic Preferences: The Role of the Reinforcement Sensitivity Theory of Personality

Abdullah Al Ashikh. Revenue and Profit Efficiencies: Nonparametric Robust Estimation

Ekaterina Kuznetsova. Migrants' attitude towards risky health behaviours and their awareness of Hepatitis B

12:30 – 13:40

Lunch Break 2.05a (2nd Floor)

13.40 – 14.30

Workshop (2.05c) : Dr Fahri Karakas – University of East Anglia, Norwich Business School
“Professional Development”

PARALLEL SESSION

A2

2.11 (2nd Floor)

Chair: Dr Fahri Karakas – University of East Anglia, Norwich Business School

Holly Powell-Jones. The ‘researcher-tutor’ classroom; new methods of ethnographic youth studies

Meanaz Akhtar. Visual research and social realities: exploring the use of photovoice in social sciences

Ulrika Hultgren. Controlling a virtual research group

Gemma Crous. Using multi-method data to capture and understand children’s and adolescents’ perceptions and evaluations of their own life

14:30 – 15:45

PARALLEL SESSION

B2

2.01 (2nd Floor)

Chair: Prof Lisa Webley – University of Westminster, Westminster Law School

Rima Saini. Tackling mixed-methodology identity research: Insights from a Sociology PhD

Mateusz Zatonski. The uses and challenges of mixed-method approaches in historical research: a case study in health history

Petra C. Gronholm, Kristin R. Laurens, Graham Thornicroft and Sara Evans-Lacko. Mixed methods research as a framework for examining the influence of mental health-related stigma on young people’s pathways to care

Jane Nebe. Conceptualizing a mixed methods design for a Phenomenological research

15:45 – 16:00

Coffee Break 2.05a (2nd Floor)

KEYNOTE 2

Keynote Speaker (2.05c)

- Prof Lisa Webley – University of Westminster
“The Importance and Relevance of Method in Socio-Legal Research”

16:00 – 16:45

16:45 – 17:00

Closing Remarks