

Ottoman and Archival Studies

23rd – 27th May 2016

London- Birmingham-Oxford

London Centre for Social Studies is delighted to announce its 2nd Ottoman and Archival Studies training programme.

Highlights of the programme:

» Seminar and presentations by renowned academic experts of Ottoman and Archival Studies in the United Kingdom.

» Viewing of original Ottoman manuscripts, rare books and archival documents held in British Library, the National Archives, Birmingham University archives, Wellcome Library (London) and the Weston Library (Oxford University).

» Overview of methodological aspects of archival research by the UK archival experts.

» Case study: Research of the Court Registers (Siciller) -methodologies and results.

» Overview of the current state of Ottoman studies: trends and challenges.

» Overview of Ottoman historical studies since 1909: early scholars in the context of archival research.

» Overview of medieval, early modern-era and modern-era Ottoman sources at the UK National Archives.

» Overview of the linguistic diversity of the Ottoman Empire.

» Opportunity for networking with like-minded researchers.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to this exciting and diverse programme!

www.socialstudies.org.uk

Early Bird Registration Deadline: 29 February 2016 £400

Final Registration Deadline: 29 April 2016 £550

Contact: Rosa Vercoe
training@socialstudies.org.uk